Digital Project Grants Application Guidelines

We can only accept applications for our awards which are made through our online application system. There will be one application period for this category of award each year and this will open in mid-August and close on 30 September.

To apply for an award, access our online system at grants.paul-mellon-centre.ac.uk where you can see further information about our award categories and will be able to register with us and start the application process. You do not have to complete your application in one go: you will be able to return to your form and submit your application when you are satisfied with it.

Applicants will be asked to complete a standard profile, at which point you will declare whether you are applying as an individual or on behalf of an institution. This choice will determine your eligibility for our various award categories.

You will be asked to provide the following:

- Project title (short text)
- Name of designated research curator (short text)
- Name of designated technical support (short text)
- Proposed outcome of digital project (short text)
- Peer review status
- Indicate content licence that will be applied to outcomes (select from list)
- Indicate anticipated publication formats of outcomes (select from list)
- Indicate what persistent identifiers will be assigned to outcomes (select from list)
- Indicate digital archiving policy for outcomes (select from list)
- Indicate content management system / host of outcomes (select from list)
- Anticipated project completion date (month and year)
- Project outline (text, 1500 word limit)
- Digital preservation statement (text, 250 word limit)
- Budget and timetable (text, 1000 word limit)
- Abbreviated CV of research curator, or draft role description (text, 750 word limit)
- Name and contact details of two referees
